“ I hope I can come back to this site when I am in a better piece of mind. Rick came into my life after my wife’s mother passed away. He had helped her and she him for years but our relationship started with the passing of Mrs. Wright. He took care of our yard, he nourished it, he worshiped it (yes - he loved just sitting in our yard and cherishing all of the things he had accomplished). He planted our flowers, he manicured everything, he watered, he trimmed, our yard was his yard. Then, he loved my daughter and her two children, asked about them constantly - joyful when they came home. He was waiting for them to come home in ten days. Then, there were our two dogs, Lucy and Henry, they worshipped him, running out to see him every morning with tails wagging. He would always ask Henry - “Henry - want to go to McDonalds?” I will miss you Rick, bless you for caring for Mrs. Wright, caring for us. We will miss you so much. Rest now Rick.
